CRITICAL PERSPECTIVES ON AGENCY AND SOCIAL JUSTICE IN TRANSITIONS AND CAREER DEVELOPMENT

The International Career Research Conference, 23-24 October 2019 at the Danish School of Education, Copenhagen, Denmark

REGISTRATION OPEN NOW – LIMITED SPACE

Agency and social justice are important topics in the Nordic countries and beyond, both within the political sphere and the wider public debate, but there has been little research addressing agency and social justice in relation to career development and transitions. This conference brings together researchers from different fields interested in interdisciplinary and critical approaches that can develop understandings of career transitions, social justice and agency and thereby contribute to the improvement of policy and practices aimed at supporting the career development of both young people and adults.

Venue

Danish School of Education in Copenhagen, Tuborgvej 164, 2400 Copenhagen

Organisers

The conference is organised by the newly established Nordic Research Network on Transitions, Career and Guidance. It follows the conference 'Transitions, career learning and career management skills. Multi-disciplinary and critical perspectives' held 19-20 October 2017 at Stockholm University. The third International Career Research Conference hosted by the Nordic research network will be held at the Inland Norway University of Applied Sciences in 2021.

Conference chair and organising committee

The conference chair is Professor MSO Rie Thomsen. The organising committee comprises: Michael Lindblad, Frida Wikstrand, Helle Merete Nordentoft, Randi Boelskifte Skovhus, Carina Carlhed, Bo Klindt Poulsen, Lisbeth Lundahl, and Per-Åke Rosvall.

The scientific committee consists of researchers within the Danish National Network for Research in Guidance and the Swedish research network Career Development and Career Guidance, KAV (Karriärutveckling och karriärvägledning).
